

LUISS

The International Training Program

What is the International Training Program - ITP?

The International Training Program - ITP - is a collaborative project of LUISS University and Terna Group aimed at training future country managers in specific countries, providing them with the highest standards in academic preparation.

The ITP combines academic education and company experience: interactive lectures and case discussion sessions are woven with project work and internships.

2019-2020 academic year, the selected countries are Brazil, Chile, Uruguay and Peru. Students chosen from the target countries will have the opportunity to:

- pursue their studies in the two-year Master's program in Management - ranked amongst the top 100 Master's programs by the Financial Times - at LUISS University - Rome,
- attend elective courses co-designed and co-delivered by LUISS and Terna, concerning sector-specific topics, work as interns during the program at Terna's branches in the target countries or other pre-approved geographical areas.
- work as interns during the program at Terna's branches in the target countries or other pre-approved geographical areas.

About Terna

Terna is one of the main European electricity transmission grid operators (TSO-Transmission System Operator) managing the Italian high voltage transmission grid, one of the most modern and technologically advanced in Europe. Terna plays a central role in transforming the electricity market towards the use of eco-compatible sources, guaranteeing a secure and efficient supply to households and businesses.

Terna's strategy falls within an international context increasingly focused on energy challenges in the fight against climate change.

Terna's aim is to enable energy transition in order to ensure the security of supply for an efficient market and a cleaner environment at the lowest possible cost.

Terna owns the majority of the Italian high voltage and very high voltage electricity transmission grid, operating in a natural monopoly.

Terna's public service mission is to secure the transmission and dispatching of electricity throughout the country.

Listed on the Stock Exchange since 2004 and with approximately 70% floating shares, Terna focuses on efficiency, profitability and performance, as demonstrated by the results achieved.

With consolidated expertise gained in the management of the Italian grid, the company has invested in market activities with innovative solutions for the energy market and international projects.

Terna Group extends its services and its developing business opportunities abroad, working in collaboration with consolidated global energy operators, using its knowledge and skills to improve their electricity infrastructure, safely and efficiently with a sustainable approach.

In the electricity sector, Terna supports continual growth in renewable sources, and progressive evolution in larger generation plants. The development of the grid is crucial in moving towards new ways of producing and consuming, meeting the needs of lifestyles that continue to evolve over time.

The people who work with us are trained, skilled, result-orientated and open to innovation.

We focus on:

- operating excellence, creating value for stakeholders, optimizing results through continuous improvement of processes and service quality,
- entrepreneurship, seizing opportunities, promoting company strategies and turning ideas into actions,
- the ability to be innovative, forecasting trends and being flexible, with a positive attitude to introduce changes to company processes and activities.
